19 Awesome Things We Did in 2018

1. On the Line: A History of the British Columbia Labour Movement by Rod Mickleburgh – the first history of BC labour published in 50 years -- became an instant best-seller.
2. You were protesting like it's 1983 as we looked back at 35 years since Operation Solidarity in BC with This Day in History posts, Walking Tours, Panel Discussions and interviews with key participants.
3. We put BC labour history on stage with performances by the Unladylike Collective and the Troika Collective.

4. Farmworker warriors Charan Gill and Raj Chouhan were reunited at the video premiere of The History of Health and Safety in the BC Farmworkers' Industry.
5. We were at the Hospital Employees' Union Convention to witness history upon learning that Bills 29 and 94 were gone.
6. Watch: Why Labour History Matters.

7. Teachers in Terrace celebrated World Teachers Day with the dedication of our plaque remembering their 1981 strike
8. Want to walk in their footsteps? We have an app for that.

9. Listen to their stories. Our Oral History Project interviews labour leaders and activists from years past and a surprise donation means we can upgrade our equipment!
10. Ginger Goodwin Way is back in Cumberland!
11. 1935 was a busy year in BC labour history. In New Westminster: 21 striking workers were arrested on the docks.
