You can help us tell our stories.

"The BC Labour Heritage Centre Society preserves, documents and presents the rich history of working people in British Columbia. The Society engages in partnerships and projects that help define and express the role that work and workers have played in the evolution of social policy and its impact on the present and future shaping of the province."

Our History

The BC Labour Heritage Centre was established in 2004, with an initial goal of building a physical location to house archives, offices and a theatre. In 2008 the focus shifted to working on projects that would honour the memory of working people in BC.
